All of the five finalists' works have been shot by girls coming from Austria, China, Iran, Uzbekistan and Italy, represented by Chiara Mancina with Up and Down. The sections are Photography, Mise en Scene, Movement, Editing, Sound, Acting, Drama, Story, Writing, Ideology, and Theory. This was the first textbook I ever had for a film class. As a matter of fact, Purves has worked on over forty theatrical productions as a director, stage manager and scenographer. In the end, this year East Asia Now is coming back, a focus on the last trends from East Asia, curated by Stefano Locati who will introduce four works - from Malaysia, Indonesia, the Philippines and Japan - which represent original perspective regarding the given country. Core of the manifestation is still the International Competition, with 30 of the best shorts made in the last year by university's students and schools of cinema from all over the world. The screening will represent the starting point for a tour which will also take the movie director to Rome and Naples. Miriam Cossu Sparagano Ferraye will be the only one to represent Italy in this year's competition, with her observational documentary Pupus, made for the CSC Documentary of Palermo. The Nigerian Tochi Biko with Freedom Come tells a dramatic civil war story from the perspective of two brothers, separated by the events. Carlo Montanaro, instead, with Il corpo Svelato, has prepared a "spicy" program this year, tributing first nudes - not solely scientific - of the history of cinema, from the Lumière brothers to George Méliès and the Pathé brothers. The special program dedicated to her movies will provide a priceless chance to introduce her cinematic outlook in Italy, as well as the opportunity to preview one of her latest works, Ode to joy, as part of the collective project DICOV-12. Yukiko Mishima is one of the most exciting Japanese female directors who has emerged from Japanese female directors who has Same Night, Different Blue or through the endless possibilities offered by animation: like in the case of the visual's experimentations of the Iranian director Ali Astaraki in My Brain Burst Out Laughing and of the stop motion The Seine's Tears, about Algerian's protests in France on the '61. We will revisit her career from Legami (2010) to one of her latest works, Intersezioni (2021), both projects that have at the core an inquiry of the human body. The jury consists of Domenico Scimone, Alessandro Loprieno e Eduardo Fernando Varela. A festival organized by young people for young people that was initiated by the Ca' Foscari University, is becoming more and more integrated in the cultural life of the city thanks to its "widespread" character. Luca Bigazzi is going to retrace the steps of his long and well-established career through a conversation with Ca' Foscari former student and now director of photography Robin Andriolo. Each chapter is loaded with screen shots of movies that provide examples of what the author is talking about. Side competitions, which from many years since now have been operating alongside the main one, will also be back: the Levi Music Video International Competition in its sixth edition will present the eight best musical videos created by university's students and cinema's schools coming from many different countries. Yukiko Mishima has later on directed 8 feature-length films, including the multi-award-winning Dear Etranger (2017) which will be awarded by an international jury, composed of three personalities from the world of cinema, starting with Coline Serreau, French director and writer. It became one of the most prestigious European's showcase for the "young" cinema, the Competition this year reflects like always the spirit and anxiousness of our times, that's why this year's highlights are various works dedicated, in a more or less direct way, to war, in all of its meanings and genres. A very rich edition that attempts with difficulty to go back to normality would not have been possible without the collaboration of the Fondazione Ugo e Olga Levi and NH Venezia Rio Novo, which aslo have been joined by the online short films platform WeShort, the oldest production company of sparkling wine in Italy Carpenè-Malvolti, the National Museum of Cinema of Turin, the festival Le giornate della luce of Spilimbergo and ESU Venezia, the regional company for the right to university education. Examples of both good and bad movies are used with explanations as to why some things work in a film, yet others don't. Seven times winner of the David di Donatello and Nastri d'Argento, Luca Bigazzi has worked with some of the most important Italian directors, including Paolo Virzì and Gianni Amelio. The sections are Photography, Mise en Scene, Movement, Editing, Sound, Acting, Drama, Story, Writi This was the first textbook I ever had for a film class. The release of his novel for Marsilio will represent a chance to talk about his literary career, perhaps less known than the cinematographic one, but equally interesting, to understand how the author interacts with different artistic ways of expressing himself. Despite the fame of "pupi" (Sicilian Puppets) all over the world, it is still an unknown in its internal dynamics reality. Since 2011 she's been collaborating with Art Basel. Nonetheless, it has never disregarded digital methods for its productions (Flushed away and Arthur Christmas). The iconic cinematographer will be the protagonist of an exclusive masterclass for the Short film festival audience. He also established a long-term collaboration with director Paolo Sorrentino, with whom he has worked since his debut film The Consequences of Love, as well as Il Divo, The Great Beauty and Loro. One example is Teuner of the Czech Ondřey Veverka, based on a true story of the homonymous doctor in a communist's prison during 50s and once again in Wiedersehen by young Helene Sorger where the fate of two deserters from opposite sides crosses at the end of the Second World War. ...more 30 WORKS IN THE INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION: MANY OF THEM FACE THE ISSUE OF WAR FROM AN ORIGINAL PERSPECTVES. And, since it's been a while, I decided to go back and read it from start to finish (instead of piecemeal like you normally do with college textbooks). Japanese director Yukiko Mishima will be another extremely relevant guest, she will join the festival pre-opening and a special program dedicated to her movies. Another member of the jury will be curator and programmer Marina Mottin, who during her long career collaborated with some of the most important cultural institutions of Europe, from The Venice Film Festival to the Pordenone Silent Film Festival, including Locarno Film Festival and the Fribourg International Film Festival to the Pordenone Silent Film Festival to the Pordenone Silent Film Festival and the Fribourg International Film Festival Inte the Mexican video-art, cured by Corinne Mazzoli and introducing the works of the Ibero Puebla University and the results of a challenge brought forward by the students of the Master in Fine Arts in Filmaking at Ca' Foscari. A long interview on the Auditorium's stage will be dedicated to him, with projection of some of his greatest shorts. This year as well there will be a possibility to follow the program and join the guests of the festival not only at the Auditorium Santa Marta, but also at other five locations, such as museums, cultural foundations and institutions of the Casa del Cinema of Venice. We could not omit the recurring programs of the Short, essential occasions for the festival's regulars, meaning the event regarding Italian video-art and the one dedicated to early cinema. Since I was planning to watch Kane again for another movie list, I decided to time my viewing with the reading of this last chapter so it was fresh in my mind. This book is definitely a good introductory read on the style and substance of film. There are also prestigious participants such as two Brazilian short movies, Leonardo Martinelli's Neon Phantom and Jasmine Tenucci's August Sky, presented respectively in Locarno and Cannes, which was also attended by the American movie Safe by Ian Barling, as well as traditionally underrepresented pictures including the aforementioned Nigeria, Bangladesh with The Red Frock by Ashigur Rahman and, for the first time competing at the Short Film Festival, Benin, with Another White Girl by Medessè Agohoundjè, a movie about an albino girl in search for identity.
